SciDev Incorporates in Texas USA as SciDev (US) LLC, providing platform for growth and North American opportunities for both OptiFlox® and chemistry applications

SciDev Ltd (ASX:SDV) has this week completed the process of incorporating a US operating subsidiary, SciDev (US) LLC, in anticipation of Optiflox® and additional chemical product orders in the US.

Following SciDev's partnering with the Nuocer Group, announced earlier in the year, and on the platform of SciDev's proprietary Optiflox® technology, a heavy program of marketing in the US and Canada is underway. This program has already generated significant interest from customers, with sales into the US to Peabody Energy.

SciDev is confident that establishing a US corporate structure will provide access to markets not available to the Australian entity. Details of material market-sensitive transactions will be reported as they arise.

Utilising value-adding Optiflox® technology, unique manufacturing processes and Nuocer Group products, SciDev can deliver competitively priced high-quality solids-liquid separation solutions to the North American market, which is second only to the Chinese market and is estimated to exceed US$1.4 billion dollars annually.
